STEM Education Leader of the Year Nomination Form

Nomination forms must be received no Later than November 15, 2022!

The Gorge Technology Alliance (GTA) is pleased to announce the 2022 GTA Awards, which will include the Tech Leader of the Year award and the STEM Education Leader of the Year award. The winner of the STEM Education Leader of the Year will also receive a donation from the GTA of $1,000 cash for their STEM program.

The STEM Education Leader of the Year award is intended to recognize outstanding achievement over the last year (October 1, 2021 to September 30, 2022) on the part of any individual who significantly contributed to the advancement of science, technology, engineering and/or math (STEM) education in the Columbia River Gorge. Nominations should describe with specificity why the person is being nominated for such recognition, and to the extent possible should describe objective measures of the contributions made by the nominated person to the Columbia River Gorge.

Criteria:

Presented to the nominated individual who has made the most transformative impact through the advancement of STEM education in the Columbia River Gorge over the last year (October 1, 2021 to September 30, 2022) as determined by the GTA Board of Directors.

- The individual should be recognized as a leader in STEM education in the Columbia River Gorge through their/his/her involvement with some facet of STEM education in the Columbia River Gorge. The Gorge covers the five-county area of the GTA (Hood River, Wasco, Sherman, Skamania and Klickitat Counties).
- The individual should be in a position to accept the award and to represent the STEM education community in the Columbia River Gorge in a positive light for the foreseeable future.
- Individuals are not required to be GTA members to be eligible.
- Individuals that teach students of all ages and all forms of education (public, private, after-school, etc.) are eligible.
